Dear USA Foxx & Furs,

I just got it this fall and wow; my deer vest is just great!! Thank you, the vest you made will keep the memory of my two Mule Deer hunts alive for the next 25 years (if I last that long). I can hardly believe that sending you the three frozen deer hides this past winter that my vest would fit perfect and look so good. Thanks again and you know I will be wearing my deer vest with memories and pride.

How do I PREPARE my hides for tanning?

FROZEN Preparation

- To prevent hair slippage, skin AS SOON AS POSSIBLE and put in freezer immediately
- DO NOT SALT A HIDE before freezing as salt prevents freezing (Only salt and dry a hide if it has been fleshed)
- Lay hide flat and allow at least one hour for entire hide to cool. (If folded immediately, the inside of the hide may not freeze properly and rotting or slippage may occur.)
- Once cooled, fold hide skin to skin and freeze until hide is FROZEN COMPLETELY (this could be an extra day until the inside of the hide is frozen)

How do I SHIP my hides?

Getting your hide tanned is at your own risk! Proper preparation is crucial for best results.

My Hides are FROZEN.

1. Pack hides in a plastic bag like the picture below to prevent any leakage
2. Place frozen hide in a plastic bin and insulate with newspaper. NO PACKING PEANUTS PLEASE!
3. Seal well with packing tape
4. Send frozen hides ONLY on a Monday or Tuesday by two-day shipping service so we receive your hide before and thawing occurs

FLESH/DRY Preparation

- To prevent hair slippage, skin and flesh AS SOON AS POSSIBLE
- Remove all fat and tissue layers COMPLETELY. (Failure to do so may cause slippage and hard, brittle patches on hide after tanning.)
- DO NOT FREEZE AFTER FLESHING (Try to avoid the freezing/thawing process as much as possible)
- Lay flat and salt hide (Make sure there are no overlapping layers or rotting may occur.)
- Heavily salt skin to dry hides on a rack or off the ground if possible until they are mostly dried. Then, fold hides fur in, drain the moisture and heavily salt again until dried completely for easier shipping. This may take a week or so.

My Hides are DRIED.

1. Shake off any excess salt
2. Fold hide as needed and place into smallest box possible
3. NO PACKING PEANUTS PLEASE!
4. Ship at your convenience!

Tip: Preventing Slippage/Bald Spots After Tanning

Slippage and balding occurs when a hide is NOT prepared quickly and decomposition sets in due to the animals natural bacteria. This bacterium starts working immediately and will, until the hide is frozen, scrapped(fleshed), dried and salted, or Stop Rot is applied. Generally speaking, if an animal smells, expect trouble. Pay extra attention to the ears, and dry carefully or use extra salt to prevent slippage. Just remember, the tanning process can NOT make the hair come off, only improper handling (too long or too warm) PRIOR to tanning will make this happen.

Solution: Skin And Dry Or Freeze Your Hide As Soon As Possible

SEND FROZEN HIDES TO US ON A MONDAY OR TUESDAY ONLY!

If you live in these states, send your frozen hides by 2 day Fed EX or UPS Blue Label. You do NOT need to send overnight, simply confirm with your carrier that your shipment will be delivered in 2 days or less. Be certain you do NOT send by regular UPS or FedEx or US Mail; you are risking spoilage of your valuable hides.

If you live in these states, send your frozen hides by regular UPS, FedEx, Speedee Delivery or Priority Mail. We'll get your shipment from the above states in 1-2 days and that is fine.
