Dear Wayne,
I just received the blanket and your kind note. I wanted to let you know I am very happy with the blanket and so is my daughter who immediately put it on her bed. I again look forward to working with you after trapping season is over and getting my furs ready for tanning. I work for a large company and communication has always been the key to keep things moving along. You have shown me that you are quick to get problems resolved and to make things easier for all involved. I thank you and commend you for that. I wish you a successful 2011 and I hope my business with you helps to meet that goal.

Sincerely,
Pat Donelly

SHOULD I CHOOSE THE COLOR ADDED OR DYEING PROCESS FOR MY FURS?

If you feel your pelts do not match, check that section of the order form. We'll look over your pelts carefully. If it is recommended, we let you know. You will choose if you want this matching color service added.

CAN I TELL IF THE COLOR BLENDING OR DYEING PROCESS HAS BEEN DONE?

No, the whole garment bundle will look natural and uniform. Just like you selected the best matched bundle from hundreds of pelts. The color blending does not come out or even fade. Almost all beaver garments sold in the retail fur stores have the color added process. It adds to the richness of the furs.

COLOR ADDED (RACCOON)

the under fur is blended with a tint to make them all appear uniform and natural. Blueing is added on fur garments to make them appear natural and uniform. Allow 2 months additional time of processing

Natural Beaver Jacket
A. Wing Collar, Dolman Sleeves, Zipper, 7 Pelts, $694

Plucked, Sheared & Dyed Beaver Stroller

B. Full Collar, Dolman Sleeves, Slender Style, 10 Pelts, $711

BLENDING (BEAVER)

The under fur is darkened and blended more uniform. Your garment will look like you selected your pelts from the finest 1000 graded pelts at the fur auction. Allow 2 months additional time for this process. See picture of beaver parka on back cover. Add $15 per pelt to make your fur look the finest possible.

DYEING (BEAVER OR MUSKRAT)

The whole pelt is uniform throughout. Black or deep brown (Matera) is normal. We work with some of the best dyers in the world. Add $28 for beaver & $10 for muskrat. Allow 2 months additional time of processing.

PLUCKING/SHEARING Only the finest heavy winter or spring beavers qualify for this process. The guard hairs are removed from the pelt. Then the silky under fur is sheared to 15 mm. This is extremely soft and silky. This process is considered by many to be the ultimate in north American furs. Plucked, sheared & dyed beaver coats retail for over $7,500. Yet through USA Foxx you can have the same quality (using your own pelts) for around $1,500. A tremendous saving. We charge $38 to pluck & shear your beaver or $66 to pluck, shear and dye your pelt most any color. This is the current trend for furs nationwide at most exclusive fur stores. * For the premium plucked and sheared beaver garments, request double shearing, grooving or diamond cut process for only $100.

BLEACHING This process will remove about 75% of the color in a pelt, it will appear much lighter. Normally the darker color in the gretzen (center or the back) is still present, but the body and belly fur is quite a bit lighter. This works wonderful on raccoon, marten, muskrat and even beaver. For the pale beaver of western USA the pelts will appear almost white and for the beaver from the Midwest or eastern beaver, the pelts will be a cream color. This is a very attractive method of enhancing the appearance of the pelts.

HOW MUCH PER PELT ?

Dear USA Foxx & Furs,

My husband and I wanted to express our gratitude to your company for creating my beautiful beaver coat. We were extremely pleased and satisfied by the way it came out. It was a perfect fit! I enjoyed wearing it the first time at a Christmas Party last week. It drew a lot of recognition and your crew should be commended upon doing a fabulous job. My husband has been a trapper for over 50 years and he was proud to present this gift to me as an accomplishment of his hard work throughout the years. Again thank you and have a Happy Holiday Season.

Now that you've selected out your coat length & style on page 19, you are ready to pick the details of the coat to accent YOU! Before choosing the custom details, be honest with yourself. What figure do you cut? Read the explanations for figure A,I,O,H and X. Check the box to the left which best fits your figure. This will give you some ideas when choosing a collar, sleeve and cuff on the bottom half of this page.

Narrower bust, wider hips.
Accent your "A" figure by choosing tuxedo, full collar or hoods to draw attention AWAY from your hips. Pattern on sleeves - diagonal or dolman look great.
NO-NO's for the "As" ~ Jackets - they stop where you hips start.

Bust, waist, hips fairly even, slender body.
Accent your "I" figure by choosing patterns to give the appearance of fullness. Fuller collars, fuller cuffs, fuller sleeves.
NO-NO's for "Is" ~ Tuxedo collars - they will make you appear more slender

Bust and hips, fairly even, larger waist.
Accent your "O" figure by choosing styles to appear taller. Use straight line features -straight sleeves, no cuffs, stand up collars.
NO-NO's for "Os" ~ Additional features in sleeves -they draw attention to the center.

Bust, waist, hips fairly even, fuller figures.
Accent your "H" figure by choosing up & down styles will give the appearance of height. Tuxedo collars are best.
NO-NO's for "H's" ~ Jackets with long fur will make you appear very full.

Bust & Hips fairly even, smaller waist.
Accent your "X" figure by - lucky you - choose the features you like, use several features, fuller collars, sleeves & cuffs.
NO-NO's for "X's" ~ very few.

Now that you've determined which figure fits you, you can make a better choice on which collar, sleeve and cuff that you want. Yes, it's your choice at USA Foxx & Furs! Pick a collar, sleeve and cuff that's best suited for your lifestyle and your figure. It's as simple as A, B, C!

How do I PREPARE my pelts for tanning?

FROZEN Preparation

- To prevent fur slippage, skin AS SOON AS POSSIBLE and put in freezer immediately.
- DO NOT SALT A PELT before freezing as salt prevents freezing. (Only salt and dry a pelt if it has been fleshed properly).
- After skinning, avoid rolling pelts in a tight ball to freeze. (If folded immediately, slippage may occur due to the pelt insulating itself and freezing improperly) Instead, lay pelt open and let it cool from any core temperature for about an hour.
- Once cooled, fold skin so the fur is showing to prevent any freezer burn on the skin side and then freeze completely.

FLESH/DRY Preparation

- To prevent fur slippage, skin and flesh AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.
- Remove all fat and tissue layers COMPLETELY. (Failure to do so may cause slippage, hard brittle patches or holes in pelt during tanning).
- DO NOT FREEZE AFTER FLESHING (Try to avoid the freezing/thawing process as much as possible).
- Place on stretcher and hang to dry. If the pelt is split up the belly, tack to a board or lay on wire mesh skin side up to dry. Avoid any overlapping of the skin as this will cause the pelt to rot. You do NOT have to turn skins fur side out.
- Allow pelt to dry completely (shipping a damp or moist hide will run the risk of spoilage).

SEND FROZEN PELTS
TO US ON A
MONDAY OR TUESDAY
ONLY!

If you live in these states, send your frozen pelts by 2 day Fed EX or UPS Blue Label. You do NOT need to send overnight, simply confirm with your carrier that your shipment will be delivered in 2 days or less. Be certain you do NOT send by regular UPS or FedEx or US Mail; you are risking spoilage of your valuable furs.

If you live in these states, send your frozen pelts by regular UPS, FedEx, Speedee Delivery or Priority Mail. We'll get your shipment from the above states in 1-2 days and that is fine.

How do I SHIP my pelts?

My Pelts are FROZEN.

1. Pack pelts in a plastic bag like the picture below to prevent any leakage during shipping.
2. Place frozen pelt in a plastic bin and insulate with foam or newspaper (A disposable styrofoam cooler works well if placed inside a box).
3. Make sure package is sealed and taped well.
4. Send frozen pelts ONLY on a Monday or Tuesday by two-day shipping service so we receive your pelt before and thawing occurs.

**NO PACKING PEANUTS PLEASE****

My Pelts are DRIED.

1. Make sure pelts are completely dry before shipping (sending a damp or moist pelt will run the risk of spoilage/bald spots)
2. Fold pelt as needed and place in smallest box possible for lower-cost shipping.
3. Ship at your convenience (when the pelts are dried, it is NOT necessary to send package by two-day service).

**NO PACKING PEANUTS PLEASE****

WHAT DO I INCLUDE WITH EVERY SHIPMENT?

- First and Last Name
- Phone #
- E-mail Address (we can e-mail you when your hide arrives)
- Billing/Shipping Address
- Trapping license
- List of Items Enclosed in Box
- Description of what service you want provided by USA FOXX

Getting your pelt tanned is at your own risk! Proper preparation is crucial for best results.

F.A.Q. about USA FOXX services.

Stop-Rot™ Will STOP Fur Slippage/Fur Loss

Stop Rot was developed as an aid in preserving fur, hair and epidermal slip. It extends the work time of a fresh hide by slowing down or stopping decomposition.

In essence it is a short term preservative. Highly successful on preventing slippage and bald spots. One quart will do about 3 Bears, 20 Bobcats, 12 Coyotes or 9 Deer. Use it on all questionable hides and pelts. $16.75 per quart; add $3.00 for shipping if this is all you ordered. If we include with the rest of your order, SHIPPING IS FREE.

Once we receive your pelt/hide, our fleshing team will go to work immediately on your fur. At USA FOXX & FURS we flesh over 5000 pelts/hides annually. Just follow the instructions on pages 26-28 to ship it to us.

Tip: Preventing Slippage/Bald Spots After Tanning

This occurs when a skin is NOT prepared quickly and decomposition sets in due to the animal's natural bacteria. This bacterium starts working immediately and will, until the skin is frozen, dried or salted. Felines (Bobcat & Lynx) are the most susceptible to this problem due to the type of natural bacteria they contain. Most everyone has thrown a critter into the home freezer because you didn't have time to skin it right now. First of all, the critter with all the skin and fat will NOT freeze rapidly and secondly when you pull it out to thaw, the top will thaw quickly while the part on the ground won't. Generally speaking, if it smells you should expect problems. Pay extra attention to ears and dry carefully or use EXTRA salt in the ears to prevent slippage. The best way to freeze a pelt is lay the pelt out flat in your freezer until cool. Then roll the hide up and let the whole hide freeze. If you put several rolled up pelts in a home freezer, just remember it may be several days before the center pelts are frozen, this additional time allows for bacteria to work even though you thought it was frozen. Just remember the tanning process can NOT make the hair come off, only improper care prior to tanning will make this happen.

Solution: Skin And Dry Or Freeze Your Pelt As Soon As Possible

Repairs, Alterations & Restyling

KEEPING YOUR FURS IN STYLE

With proper care fine furs can be maintained for many years, but they do get out-dated. Because of their intrinsic value they are worth keeping in fashion. A coat may be restyled or completely redesigned into an entirely new garment, such as a jacket or stole, with the pattern of your choice and custom made to your measurements. Only an experienced furrier has the skills to determine how you can obtain the most value from your original garment, the experience to do the matching re-cutting, and sewing so that the finished garment will have the appearance of authentic newness. It takes an adequate supply of extra pelts, to provide additional fur when needed to correctly match the original fur. With complete factory facilities and skilled personnel. USA FOXX & FURS has "what-it-takes" to obtain superb results in relining and restyling or your furs.

REMODELING

USA FOXX has experienced people to make repairs, alterations & restyling to your fur garments. If your fur happens to "SHRINK" since you wore it last, no problem. We can enlarge it to fit you again. If you need new collar, new cuffs, new liner we can help you.

Take it in...

Let it out...

Or add something new.

Accessories - USA FOXX can custom make just about any fur product. We add fur trim to hoods, gloves and boots. We can make a fur scarf or boa for that special occasion. Or fur pillows and even stuffed animals. Give us a call with your creative fur ideas.
